Rules

- Games will last about 10 minutes depending on the number of teams that have to play.
- After the time limit, the winning team will be decided based on the number of players remaining on each team. Ties will be broken based on number of balls caught by each team.
- If a team has all players eliminated before the time limit, the game is over
- Players may reach over halfway/boundary, but foot may not cross line, and results in player being out
- If a player is hit by a ball thrown by the opposing team before the ball hits the ground/wall/etc, and the ball is not caught before hitting the ground/wall/etc the hit player is out.
- Being hit in the face does not count as an out (chin to forehead, ear to ear)
- If a player catches a ball thrown by the opposing team before the ball hits the ground/wall/ceiling/etc, the player to throw the ball is out and a player from the catcher's team can return from being out.
- Teams have 6 to 8 players, including up to 2 company advisers at a time
- If a ball hits multiple players before touching the ground, only the first player hit is out
- No holding balls. If the referee sees holding/hogging balls, the ref will start a 10 count. If ball not thrown across center line within the 10 count, the player is out.
- The referee's ruling is final. Arguing with the referee negates ability to return to game by a caught ball
- PLEASE no kicking the balls at any time

It starts with Scouts.
